

Transcript

11_Video_Library_Application_Form

You will hear a number of different recordings and he will have to answer questions on what you hear. There will be time for you to read the instructions and questions and he will have a chance to check your work. All the recordings will be played once only the test is in four Parts right all your answers in the listening question booklet. At the end of the test, you'll be given 10 minutes to transfer your answers to an answer sheet.

Part 1

Now turn to Part 1 on page 2 of your question booklet.

Louise wants to join a video library. You will hear a conversation between Louise and the owner of the video library. At first you have some time to look at questions 1 to 5.

Listen carefully to the conversation and answer questions 1 to 5.

Louise: Oh, hello, I'd like to join the video library.

Man: Okay, would you like to fill in the application form now?

Louisa: Yes, I can do it now.

Man: Hold on. Can I get a form, Now I'll just ask you a few questions and then I'll get you to sign at the bottom.

Louise: Right?

Man: What's your full name ?

Louise: Louise Cynthia Jones.

Man: Jones?

Louise: Yes, that's right.

Man: Okay. And what's your address apartment?

Louise: Apartment 1, 72 Blackstreet Highbridge next street.

Man: Highbridge it's just around the corner, isn't it?

Louise: Yes.

Man: Okay, so the postcode is 2085, right?

Louise: Yes, 2085

Man: and your telephone number? I need both home and work

Louise: Home is 98356712 and work is 94561309. Do you need any ID or anything like that?

Man: Yes. We need your driver's license number, that is if you have one.

Louise: Yes, I know it off by heart. It's an easy ,2020 BD,do you need to see it?

Man: Yes, I'm afraid I do.

Louise: Here.

Man: Right? Thanks. And could you tell me your date of birth, please?

Louise: 25 July 1977

Man: But could I just ask you a few questions for a survey when conducting?

Louise: Okay

before the conversation continues you have some time to look at questions 6 to 10.

Now listen carefully and answer questions 6 to 10.

Man: What kind of videos do you prefer to watch a look at this list?

Louise: Well, I love anything that makes me laugh. I just love to hear jokes and funny punchlines. I'm not very keen on westerns. Although my father likes them, I'm a real softy. So anything with a bit of a love story is good for me. It doesn't matter how old, not musicals though. They're too much

Man: anything else.

Louise: I'm completely taken by documentaries of The Great Outdoors, you know the sort, animals plants and Faraway places. I saw a wonderful one on Dolphins last week it was amazing now.

Man: I think that's all for me. Except I need you to sign here on the line. Here's a pen.

Oh i nearly forgot the membership fee. Is $25 refundable if you leave the library for any reason

Louise: and do I sign here?

Man: Yes, that's it. You can borrow videos now if you like, but your card won't be ready until next week. You can come and pick it up. When you bring your first videos back. That is if you want to take some now.

Louise: Yes, I'd like to have a look around.

Man: fine.

That is the end of Part 1 you will now have half a minute to check your answers. Now turn to Part 2.

Part 2

You will hear a radio interview about an expedition across the Arturo mountains. First you have some time to look at questions 11 to 15.

PAUSE

Now listen carefully to the interview and answer questions 11 to 15.

Interviewer: A Dream came true in 1995 when over 96 days of the spring and summer an expedition of four men undertook what they believed to have been the first and only complete end-to-end Crossing of Morocco's Arturo mountains. I will talk to Charles Owen, the leader of the Expedition group about the trip, Charles how much planning we know beforehand?

Charles Owen: Well as you know, i run these walking trips across the mountains for tourists and over the years, I've collected maps and other data to prepare what I call a route book for this trip and this book basically shows the route across the mountains that we took.

Interviewer: You actually broke records while you were out there didn't you?

Charles Owen: Hmm Yes. It was 900 miles in total and we managed to climb 32-piece. There were over 3,000 meters high including two Carl which is of course the highest in North Africa. We weren't actually out to make a name for ourselves. It just happened. Really.

Interviewer: What was the weather like?

Charles Owen: it got us right from day one and we were pretty taken aback really to find that it rained for quite a number of days and so we were forced to start re-planning our roots almost from the outset. One of the obvious problems is the heavy snow which blocks the mountain passes. So you have to make considerable details when we were on the way to Emil chill, for example, the snow forced us into a northern bypass which was new to us. But anyway, either way we would have been rewarded because we fell upon an amazing high meadows huge gorgeous and wonderful snowcap Mountain the scenery was as fine as any we saw on the trip. And that was how it was every time having to take another pass was never a disappointment.

You now have some time to look at questions 16 to 20.

Now listen to the rest of the interview and answer questions 16 to 20.

Interviewer: It was in many ways a social trip wasn't it?

Charles Owen: Yes. Yes. We'd arranged to meet up with friends at various points on the journey. I mean, this was actually one of the purposes of the trip and we managed to keep all these dates which well it's amazing really considering the details we made and an old friend acted as a sort of transport organizer for everyone and the hotel alley in Marrakesh was a good social base. I'd really recommend it. Although I can't remember who runs it. Anyway, groups of friends actually joined us for three weeks since and others just linked up with us some of whom we have met before the trip at all have tagged on for short bursts, people from the area who just came along for the ride, but outside the major visitor areas like to come, we only met one other group of Travelers like ourselves in the whole 96 days.

Interviewer: whether any bad moments?

Charles Owen: Well, we took two long-suffering donkeys with us to help transport water and tents and things. I suppose if we were to do it all again we'd probably have higher donkeys along the way Tarzan and Tamre as we call them after the last places in the trip. Well, they made quite a unique Journey between them, but it was continuously demanding for them. On both the really high summits. They took diversion, they were quite out of character, and I can only assume that it must have been due to tiredness.

Interviewer: Well, thank you. And Charles has put together a video about this journey and continues to lead groups to the Arturo mountains. So if you want further information.

That is the end of Part 2 you will now have half a minute to check your answers.

Now turn to Part 3

Part 3

You will hear two new students Jane and Tim talking about their university studies. First you have some time to look at questions 21 to 25.

Now listen carefully to the discussion and answer questions 21 to 25.

Jane: Hi Tim!

Tim: Jane!

Jane: how are you?

Tim: Hi

Jane: I have been wondering when i would run into you, have you been here long?

Tim: I just arrived yesterday, sunday.How about you?

Jane:I got here a few days ago on saturday no, wait a minute, what's today ...? Friday not saturday!

Tim: But we didn't have to be here until today?

Jane: Yes, I know but I wanted to get my things moved into my room and just take a look around. So did you decide to do English in the end?

Tim: No, I changed my mind and opted for history instead and you're doing biology if I remember correctly.

Jane: Yes, although to start with that. I couldn't decide between that and geography.

Tim: How much reading have you got? I was given an amazingly long list of books to read see!

Jane: Wow it does look pretty long.

Tim: Well, I counted 57. I can hardly believe it. What's your least like?

Jane: Well, it's not as long as yours, but it's still pretty big 43. I don't know how I'm gonna get through them all.

Tim: Well, you don't have to read them all this week. You just have to stay ahead of the lectures and seminars and we got your class schedule.

Jane: Yep. It came with a reading list. When is your first lecture?

Tim: Tuesday. How about you?

Jane: The day after it's my busiest day. I've got two lectures in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Before the discussion continues You have some time to look at questions 26 to 30.

Now listen carefully and answer questions 26 to 30.

Jane: It's going to be different from school, isn't it?

Tim: Yeah, particularly the lectures. Have you got any special strategy for listening to lectures?

Jane: Well, I'm going to use a cassette recorder and record them all.

Tim: What, are you allowed to ?

Jane: Sure lots of people do it nowadays. It means you can listen to the lectures all over again and later make really good notes.

Tim: I can't really do that. I like to take notes when I am listening. I usually find I get all the important points. Reading is difficult. My Approach is to skim the book first to see what's what, it saves the House of time.

Jane: But what if you miss something?

Tim: you don't mean you're going to read every word. Do you?

Jane: Well, that's what I usually do.

Tim: Well, that's up to you. But I think you're crazy.

Jane: What's your first lecture on anyway?

Tim: So it's on the French Revolution.

Jane: the French Revolution! how boring!

Tim: No, it's not boring at all. It was an amazing period of History, it changed everything in Europe. So what's your first lecture all about?

Jane: It's about animal behavior. It sounds really interesting.

Tim: Look, I was on my way to the library. I'm going to get some of these books out and start reading through the first essay I've got to write

Jane: And what have you got to write about?

Tim: You'll never believe it. I think our professor must have a sense of humor. He's given us the title. Why study history?

Jane: That's a good one when you found the answer let me know.

Tim: I'm going to enjoy writing it. Have you been given any writing assignments yet?

Jane: Yes. I've got to write about animal language

Tim: That's a challenge I suppose. You'll be off to the zoo to do field research.

That is the end of Part 3 you will now have half a minute to check your answers.

Now turn to Part 4.

Part 4

You will hear a lecture being given to school leavers on the jobs people can get in sport and the training programs available to prepare for those jobs. First you have some time to look at questions 31 to 40.

Now listen carefully to the lecture and answer questions 31 to 40.

Welcome to further education information week. This is the physical education faculty session and I'm the head of the faculty. During the course of this morning we hope to give you a clearer idea of what we offer in our training programs and we will look at the types of courses and the entry requirements if any for those courses at some of these courses are open to school leavers, but for some you need previous qualifications or relevant successful employment. So firstly the physical fitness instructors course is offered as a six-month certificate course which includes an important component of personal fitness, but there are no specific entry requirements. For Sports administrators, we provide a full month certificate course, but you should be aware that this is designed for those who are in employment. This employment must be current and related to Sports Administration. For the sports psychologist course, we offer a one-year diploma course, but this diploma course is available only to those who already hold a degree in Psychology. So you need to make sure you have that before you apply to do this course.

Now for physical education teachers, we offer a four-year degree in education. This degree course is designed for preparing students to teach in primary and secondary schools and needs no prior qualifications as it is entered directly by school leavers and lastly for the recreational purposes course, we offer a six months certificate entry to this course normally includes applicants of a wide range of ages and experiences, but we do not insist on any prerequisites for this course.

Remember that this is a vocational training institute. We train you so that you can take up a particular kind of job. So it is important that you know the main roles of the jobs, what the work is like and what kind of qualities you need to succeed at them. A physical fitness instructor works in the health and fitness centers preparing individual programs for ordinary members of the public. Physical fitness instructors prepare routines of exercises to suit the individual clients age and level of fitness.

Sports administrators run clubs and sporting associations. Their duties include such things as booking playing fields with local councils and organizing the schedule of games or events for the club so they need good organizational skills. Sports psychologists spend time with professional athletes helping them approach competition with a positive mental attitude to enable them to achieve their personal best. They do this by improving motivation and concentration or assisting with Stress Management. The physical education or PE teachers instruct young students in how to exercise, play sport and do other recreational activities correctly and safely. PE teachers help the development of coordination, balance posture and flexibility with things like civil catching and throwing skills. They are not expected to be experts in all sports, but must be able to show students the basic techniques involved in a wide range of activities.

Recreation offices often find themselves working for local government authorities and local groups. Their aim is to raise people's awareness of Healthy Lifestyles and improve general fitness through arranging recreational activities for groups of all ages from the very young to the elderly. There are many other job opportunities which our graduates can look forward to if you're interested in any of these.

That is the end of Part 4 you will now have half a minute to check your answers.